Programme Overview

This programme meets the needs of students planning careers in the legal sector as well as those pursuing other professions or further study.

If you are an aspiring lawyer, the programme is specifically designed to help prepare you for the SRA's Solicitors Qualifying Examinations, as well as meeting Bar Standards Board and CILEX requirements. If you're instead focussing on non-legal routes or have not yet committed to a career choice, module options in complementary subjects, along with specific skills articulation allows you to explore themes you find most engaging, enhances your employability and encourages interdisciplinarity. We'll also encourage you to take periods away from University on a professional practice placement.

The programme is highly applied. In the first year, you will have the opportunity to build foundations of knowledge and skills which you will be encouraged to develop and refine in your second and third years. In the first and second years you will also have the opportunity to reflect on your development and the extent to which you are meeting programme-level objectives so that, in your final year, you focus your efforts to maximise your return on your studies and your employability.

Whatever your goals and choices, you will join a collegiate academic community that champions lifelong learning, supported by research- and practice-informed teaching.

(Students who take the modules noted with ^, below, will earn a degree which is accredited by the Bar Standards Board as the 'academic component' for the purposes of qualifying for the bar of England & Wales. The single-honours degree will exempt students from the requirements of Associate Member of CILEX, although direct application will be necessary.)

Programme Aims

The aims of this programme are to:

1. Equip students with a robust, wide-ranging knowledge of key areas of law and legal principles, underpinning students' abilities in critical problem-solving, innovation and legal practice;
2. Engender theoretically-grounded and well-practiced lawyerly, scholarly and professional skills;
3. Cultivate reflective learners, who critically evaluate their own and others' performance, seeking out opportunities to develop themselves and their professional networks;
4. Develop students' understanding of the context of the law, justice and ethics – its relevance to and interplay with contemporary society at an institutional, local, national and international level;
5. Craft confident, lifelong learners who seek out and exploit new opportunities that challenge and further themselves.

Note: LAW6020 'Law Clinic' module availability is subject to capacity and module admission requirements.

Assessment methods

A range of summative assessment tasks will be used to test the Intended Learning Outcomes in each module. These are indicated in the attached assessment map which shows which tasks are used in which modules.

Students will be supported in their development towards summative assessment by appropriate formative exercises.

Please note: if you choose an optional module from outside this programme, you may be required to undertake a summative assessment task that does not appear in the assessment grid here in order to pass that module.

Work experience and placement opportunities

In almost all cases, you will be encouraged to take placement opportunities. These can be in any relevant position, in legal practice (independently, or in an industry setting) or in an ancillary position (e.g. governance; human resources; finance; courts or prison services; social welfare organisations).

Whilst you are welcome to engage in extra-curricular placements (that is, those arranged beyond the scope of your degree), there are two placement modules to support you if you wish to earn credits for your placement activities:

1. Open 'Work Placement' Module (BMA5120): 4 weeks work experience during your second year, which attracts 20, Level-5 credits.

This is a Level-5 open module run by Bath Business School offering comprehensive support to gain a short work experience opportunity.

1. Professional Placement Year: 10-month placement between your second and third years, which attracts 120, Level-5 'placement' credits.

If you are enrolled on the single honours Law Programme, an option for part of your programme will be to obtain and complete a 10-month period with an approved employer. This period will be completed after Level 5 and before Level 6 and will run from September/October to June/July. Towards the end of the first year, there will be a meeting arranged to explain the Professional Placement Year process. Details will be sent to all Level 4 Law students. The core modules at Level 5 will provide time and guidance for you to apply and prepare for the full-length placement.

Note that students wishing to practice as a solicitor will be required to complete 2 years' qualifying work experience before admission as a solicitor. See <https://www.sra.org.uk/sra/policy/sqe/solicitor-persona.page> for details.

Graduate Attributes

	Bath Spa Graduates...	In Law, we enable this...
1	Will be employable: equipped with the skills necessary to flourish in the global workplace, able to work in and lead teams	By clearly articulating and developing skills and reflective practice, informed by legal and non-legal ethical and professional frameworks, throughout the programme; and by providing and encouraging work placements and critical career-planning
2	Will be able to understand and manage complexity, diversity and change	By developing your ability to deal with problems through increasingly-complex and ambiguous scenarios and challenges which will eventually require you to apply concepts and principles in novel ways and beyond the context they were originally crafted for.
3	Will be creative: able to innovate and to solve problems by working across disciplines as professional or artistic practitioners	By embedding opportunities to resolve fictional and real-life legal and non legal problems which draw on creative, solution-oriented approaches, engendered through a practice- and problem solving focused curriculum.
4	Will be digitally literate: able to work at the interface of creativity and technology	By training you in the range, evaluation, selection and use of an array of specialist legal and general non-legal digital tools, platforms and databases. Applied assessments will teach you to use these tools in meaningful, real-world ways.
5	Will be internationally networked: either by studying abroad for part of the their programme, or studying alongside students from overseas	By enabling you to participate in collaborative activities with a diverse range of students from across the world, developing your intercultural awareness. We will promote and encourage you to engage in opportunities for study abroad and international work placements.
6	Will be creative thinkers, doers and makers	By guiding you to analyse and evaluate problems, critically selecting routes to solutions and ideas from a wide range of litigative and non-litigative options and using your judgement to craft creative, innovative solutions and decisions.
7	Will be critical thinkers: able to express their ideas in written and oral form, and possessing information literacy	By developing your evaluative faculties from the outset; by schooling you in the art of precise, concise, cogent communication in oral, written and other forms; and by developing your ability to recognise the need for information and to locate, assess and effectively use that information for a given situation or problem.
8	Will be ethically aware: prepared for citizenship in a local, national and global context	By introducing you to the law's interrelationship and force on society and you personally as a citizen from local, national and international perspectives. We will guide you to work within professional legal and non-legal ethical frameworks.
